

PRICE GUIDE

January 1, 2016

rave fabricare
master cleaners

*extraordinary care
for fine garments, household textiles
and accessories*

PLEASE NOTE:

- The prices listed below provides a generalized guide for a handful of different garments.
- The prices listed below are minimum, base prices.
- After factors such as luxury fabrics, trims and embellishments (beads, sequins, leather, suede, etc.), light colors (primarily whites and creams), difficult stains and unusual fabrications are considered, the actual charge will be slightly to substantially higher than the minimum, base prices listed below.
- We often receive calls requesting a price quote for a particular service. In many cases, the verbal description of the garment, household textile or accessory and the associated problems is incomplete.

We also receive emails with attached photos requesting a price quote for a particular service. In many cases, the written description of the garment, household textile or accessory and the associated problems is incomplete and/or the attached photos only paints a partial picture of the associated problems.

- Notwithstanding the fact that your call or email might, in a rare instance, accurately describe the problem, we still need to physically examine the article. This will enable us to definitively assess the labor time and technical skill required and, as a result, calculate a price for the service to be rendered.

Accordingly, no verbal price quotations can be provided over the phone without physically examining the article. Similarly, no written price quotations can be provided via email without physically examining the article.

- After we physically examine the article to be cleaned/restored, we can provide you with a price quotation or, at the very least, a price range. We will only honor that price quotation if that quotation is in writing and was issued by an authorized RAVE FabriCARE representative.
- At an ordinary dry cleaner, they'll tell you that your garments will be ready "tomorrow after 5:00 pm" or "in two days after 5:00pm." Quite frankly, it makes little difference to them whether the work is properly executed or not. It's going to be ready – irrespective of whether the work required to restore the item to as close to original condition as possible has, in fact, been completed or even attempted.

At RAVE FabriCARE, by contrast, your expectations are different. You know that the quality of work delivered will be of the highest calibre. That's why you're here and not on the website of an ordinary cleaner.

With this in mind, please understand that any time frame provided to complete the work is an estimate - and only an estimate.

The overwhelming majority of our work is completed by the estimated completion date.

However, in the unlikely event that the original estimated completion date is exceeded because the restoration required more time than was originally estimated, no price adjustments will be made because we exceeded the estimated completion date – whether by an hour, by a day, by a week or even by a month.

Some might consider these pricing guidelines to be unduly specific. And they are.

We trust that you'll understand that, after 25+ years in the garment, household textile and accessory care business, we have seen and heard everything. And that these specific guidelines are designed to eliminate misunderstandings and set expectations.
